Your Hosts

Jerry Helms is a professional bridge player, writer and teacher, who specializes in group seminars. As a player, he has appeared 25 consecutive times on the annual American Contract Bridge League (ACBL) "Top 500" list. Jerry is a featured columnist for both Better Bridge Magazine and the ACBL Bulletin. His byline for both magazines is "Ask Jerry." He is the co-inventor of the HELLO convention that is used over the opponents opening INT bid.

When the ACBL established its teacher accreditation program (TAP) in 1987, Jerry was asked to participate as a trainer. During his tenure he certified over 2,000 bridge teachers.

Zeke Jabbour is the most successful senior player in ACBL history. He is a Grand Life Master with some 30,000 masterpoints, a multiple National Champion (once won nine national championships in nine years), World Medalist, and Author of the popular "Winsome and Loathsome" column.

Zeke has won the Barry Crane, George Burns, Sally Fishbein and a dozen other trophies. He was the ACBL 2007 "member of the year" and the 2006 Goodwill "man of the hour."

New York to Quebec City

Sept. 10-20, 2011 (10 days) • Holland America's ms Eurodam

Sept. 10, 2011 - Embark New York, NY. New York was once the capital of America, but that illustrious title seems insignificant compared to the modern role of the Big Apple. Fashion, finance and fine arts—it all happens here.

Sept. 11, 2011 - Newport, RI. In this natty yachting town it is not the Joneses one must keep up with, but the Vanderbilts, Astors and Morgans. They called their summer homes by the sea “cottages,” but a stroll along Cliff Walk reveals some of the grandest mansions in America—the Breakers, Rosecliff, Beechwood, Doris Duke's Rough Point Estate. In town, shop lively Bowen's Wharf, taste lobster fresh off the boats. Visit Touro Synagogue, the oldest surviving Jewish house of worship in the U.S.

Sept. 12, 2011 - Gloucester, MA. In a 21st-century fairy tale, the little port town of Gloucester, Massachusetts, met the glamour of Hollywood when its eastern harbor lighthouse captured a starring role in the movie, The Perfect Storm. But with practical disregard for such frivolous fame, the people of Gloucester still look to fishing for their fortune. Since 1623, the town's rugged coastline and sandy coves have enticed visitors to its shores.

Sept. 13, 2011 - Bar Harbor, ME. Once the exclusive summer resort of America's fabulously wealthy, today Bar Harbor is an artists' enclave and gateway to the rich natural beauty of Acadia National Park, much of which was donated by the Rockefeller family. Watch for white-tail deer and other wildlife and enjoy a horse-drawn carriage ride through the park.

Sept. 14, 2011 - Halifax, NS. For ocean scenery at its best, nothing rivals Nova Scotia's south shore. Here find craggy coastlines, fabled Peggy's Cove, and the striking German village of Lunenburg, so meticulously restored it has been designated a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Back in Halifax the ramparts of the Citadel and a museum commemorating the Titanic await your inspection.

Sept. 15, 2011 - Sydney, NS. A hundred thousand Gaelic welcomes await you in Nova Scotia, Latin for “New Scotland.” There are highland villages to visit, the scenic Cabot Trail to explore, golden inland seas to sail and the Fortress of Louisbourg to inspect—where every barn, barracks and pipe and drum corps appears just as it did when King Louis' troops occupied the site in 1744.

Sept. 16, 2011 - Charlottetown, PEI. It may be Canada's smallest province, but it's big on history and attractions. It is here that the famous Conference of 1864 was held, which resulted in the creation of the Canadian confederacy. Learn all about it on a walking tour of Charlottetown, the provincial capital. Or cast your vote for shopping, a lobster luncheon at Dalvay-by-the-Sea or a tour of the picturesque farm that inspired Anne of Green Gables.

Sept. 17, 2011 - Cruising the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Sept. 18, 2011 - Saguenay, QC. Gorgeous, green and Gallic, this charming village is your gateway to some of the most stunning scenery in North America: majestic fjords, dramatic rocky capes and picturesque hamlets are all here. So are artisans of every ilk, from glassblowers to angora goat farmers.

Sept. 19, 2011 - Quebec City, QC. A tree-lined “Champs-Élysées,” buttery croissants, the lilt of French, a grand chateau on the river. Is this Canada, or is it France? It is both—a bastion of French culture in North America where impassioned Québécois hold dear their history, language and culture. Nearby: Montmorency Falls, higher than Niagara.

Sept. 20, 2011 - Disembark Quebec City, QC.
